They came from Canal Winchester, O. to Pana, Ill. by train. Wagons, furniture and animals were in a box car. There was no drinking water so the younger children cried themselves to sleep. They walked a mile or two between stations at Indianapolis carrying their food for the trip which took two days, Mar. 15-17, 1870. Juliann had $1000 sewed in the hem of her dress to pay for the 80A bought sight unseen. The roads were nearly axle deep with mud so the horses were exhausted then people loaned their horses. The six children were 4 months to 12 years old. ch Orlando, George, Levi, Luella, Charles, William and Ora b 1874

Early children had many responsible chores. The Isaac Sylvester farm had a small spring along the road (and is still active) where butter and milk were kept cool between meals.

Will remembered his mother asked him to bring cookies from the cellar when the preacher came for Sunday dinner. Will replied "There are none." because he had eaten them, which his mother had discovered. He also remembered being covered with snow when he awoke to climb the ladder downstairs.

Isaac and Juliann celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary 1907 which was unusual in those days. A basket dinner was followed by a religious service in the grove attended by community friends and Ohio relatives. A family picture was taken and 2 of the
